

What Brothers Do

What Brothers Do is the true story of two brothers: Patrick Brown, a highly decorated and well-respected captain in the New York fire Department; his younger brother Michael, a Las Vegas emergency medicine physician. Immediately after the September 11 attacks on the World Trade Center, Mike—once a Harlem firefighter—journeys back to his hometown and Ground Zero in a desperate search for his brother. He clings to hope but in the weeks that follow, Mike realizes that his focus must shift to fulfilling his brother's last wishes. But before he can honor Pats' instructions, Mike must work through his anger and grief and overcome serious personal challenges. Helping him through it all: the friends and coworkers his brother left behind, as well as Brown family members who reconnect with Mike to offer support. This inner circle comes together and helps Mike see that though Pat is gone, his spirit lives on in the city he so loved and in the many lives he touched. But will the ties that now bind so tightly to New York sever him from his wife, his career and his life back home? ABOUT THE AUTHOR Michael Everett Brown, M.D., is a board-certified emergency medicine physician practicing in Las Vegas, Nevada, where he resides with his wife Janet and their four dogs. Born and raised in the New York metropolitan area, he was a volunteer firefighter in Westbury, Long Island, for more than 12 years and a New York City firefighter in Harlems Engine Company 37 for four years. He is currently a member of the Nevada Task Force One Urban Search and Rescue Team. In 2001, he received a U.S. Congressional Recognition Award for selfless acts and commitment to his profession above and beyond the call of duty. He has written two screenplays and is currently working on his third book.
