

Learning with LabVIEW 6i

Learning with LabVIEW, by Robert H. Bishop, is the officially endorsed textbook that accompanies the LabVIEW 6i Student Edition software from National Instruments and Prentice Hall. When used with the Learning directory (a family of virtual instruments developed exclusively for use with this book) and the extensive LabVIEW on-line help, this book provides a complete learning environment for students and practitioners needing assistance in quickly becoming productive with this powerful software tool. Features

- * Provides step-by-step tutorials that show how to construct, debug, and run virtual instruments
- * Includes a library of virtual instruments to accompany each chapter
- * Contains pedagogical features like building-block examples, helpful hints, and end-of-chapter glossaries that are ideal for self-paced instruction
- * Includes over 350 excellent figures accurately representing the various LabVIEW screens with additional informative notes and pointers
- * Accompanied by a website for users who wish to post questions, download new VIs, or access the latest LabVIEW developments
