

Paper. Rock. Scissors.: Book Two - Celestes Confession

Celeste Coopers father abandoned her family when she was an infant. She has the letter to prove it, and it sounds to Celeste like it was because of her. Now that shes sixteen, she has other things to worry about-much more than just boys and school. Shes worried about her mom, especially since Celestes older brother just left to fight the war in Iraq. Then, when Celestes deadbeat dad returns, her familys world is turned upside-down. While dealing with the ramifications of having a father figure back in her life, Celeste has to work on a relationship with her boyfriend, Brad. Brad is a dream guy. Hes the star of the basketball team, and Celeste thinks they really have something special. The only problem is that Brad wants a physical relationship, while Celestes Christian upbringing and the influence of her close friend, Zella, make her feel hesitant. Celeste comes to find it isnt easy being a modern teen. She must learn, the hard way, that her actions do have consequences. The consequences affect not only her life, but also the lives of the people she loves. When tragedy strikes, will Celeste have the strength to go on? Will she lean on the God she adores and admires? Or will she shield herself, like Adam and Eve in the garden, fearful of His judgment?
