The Cloud Upon the Sanctuary (Christian mysticism veiled in hermetic code) by Karl von Eckhartshausen. One of the greatest influences on theological and philosophical thought of the 18th century, was the writings of a little known author called Karl von Eckartshausen. Popular during his own time, he was a prolific writer of books, papers and articles covering such subjects as: the Sciences, fine Art, Drama, Politics, Religion and History, though over time, many of these have been forgotten. He is perhaps best known in esoteric circles for his writings about Magic, Alchemy and the properties of Numbers, of which his most influential book was The Cloud upon the Sanctuary. This was the book that influenced such people as A.E. Waite (indeed it was Waite who wrote the introduction to its current printing) and other members of the Order of the Golden Dawn, most particularly the infamous Aleister Crowley. THERE is no age more remarkable to the quiet observer than our own. Everywhere there is a fermentation in the minds of men; everywhere there is a battle between light and darkness, between exploded thought and living ideas, between powerless wills and living active force; in short everywhere is there war between animal man and growing spiritual man. It is said that we live in an age of light, but it would be truer to say that we are living in an age of twilight; here and there a luminous ray pierces through the mists of darkness, but does not light to full clearness either our reason or our hearts. Men are not of one mind, scientists dispute, and where there is discord, truth is not yet apprehended. This kindle edition has TOC linkage for easy navigation.
