

The Study of Time III: Proceedings of the Third Conference of the International Society for the Study of Time, Alpbach - Austria

The papers in this volume were delivered and responded to at the Third Conference of the International Society for the Study of Time. The meeting took place during sunny days, punctuated by an occasional brief storm, in the conference facilities of the Osterreichisches College in Alpbach, Austria, from July 1 to July 10, 1976. In the middle of it came July 4, the 200th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence, and in honor of participants from the United States there was a special session of papers on the subject of Freedom and Time. [See Fraser, Park in this volume.] The effect of the papers was kaleidoscopic; reading the table of contents one can surmise the experience of those enthusiasts, and there were several, who heard them all. I think that most people who have been puzzled about time will agree that it is not clear what the puzzle is or from what direction the insights will come that will enable us to understand the situation a little more clearly. As one of the participants wrote afterwards, After all , we do not know a priori whether there exists a real unity in studies about time, but if one exists it must reveal itself progressively in the course of successive experiences such as these lectures. If it were easy to find, it would have been found already without the Society's help.
