

Who on Earth Is Aldo Leopold?: Father of Wildlife Ecology (Scientists Saving the Earth)

Aldo Leopold was an American ecologist, forester, and environmentalist. He helped create the world's first designated wilderness area. He was also influential in the development of modern environmental ethics and in the movement for wilderness preservation. In this biography, authors Glenn Scherer and Marty Fletcher chronicle the life and work of Aldo Leopold, who has been called the most significant conservationist of the 20th century.
